Foreword

The devastating earthquake of 7.8 magnitudes hit the poor landlocked country on 25th April 2015 resulting in over 8790 human casualties & 22300 injuries. Among them 55% of the casualties were women, 26% were women headed households & 41% were the Dalit caste/ethnicity group.

In case of sindhupalchok, 3057 people were dead, 860 were injured & 3000 people remain unaccounted, 63,885 houses were severely & 2,751 houses were moderately damaged after the earthquake. Besides that livelihood of the communities become challenging due to different kinds of hazards like landslide, flood and food scarcity in the communities.

Women's are more negatively affected due to gender inequality & work burdens are increase to the women. Almost women's seem engaged only in household's activities & participation of female & social inclusion group in development activities is very less. With aim to empower women & Youth as agents of resilience, increasing the coping capacities of households & communities to manage the impacts of recurring disasters, slow- onset crises, climate change & poor governance CDECF has been implementing a Margaret A. Cargill Foundation/ Mercy corps funded program entitled "Building Resilience through Integration of Gender & Empowerment (BRIGE) from July 2017 to March 2018".

In over all, earthquake has a devastating impact especially on the women's (single headed womens, womens from social inclusion groups). All continued to live in temporary shelter offering little protection & comfort, have no access to health services, latrine facilities, water supply, burdening work load to care of children, engaging livelihood activities, household activities. BRIGE became the companion of the women to support in their livelihood activities, empowered the women and enhance in decision making process, reduced the reproductive activities in the houses, encourage the men's to support the women's.

1. Background

In Nepal gender inequalities overlap with a hierarchical system based on castes which exacerbates inequalities & distinctions relating to roles & responsibilities. The most recent major earthquake having the magnitude 7.6 struck the central & western region of Nepal on 25th April 2015 resulting in over 8790 human casualties & 22300 injuries. Among them 55% of the casualties were women, 26% were women headed households & 41% were the Dalit caste/ethnicity group.

In case of sindhupalchok, 3057 people were dead, 860 were injured & 3000 people remain unaccounted, 63,885 houses were severely & 2,751 houses were moderately damaged after the earthquake. Besides that livelihood of the communities become challenging due to different kinds of hazards like landslide, flood and food scarcity in the communities.

Different water facilities, toilets were badly damaged by earthquake though to different extent need to travel half & hour more for water facilities. Life is challenging every day inside the hut especially for women. Women & girls are more negatively affected due to gender inequality. Work burdens are increased in the communities for women's. Women's are entirely responsible for care of children & household activities. A patriarchal mind set dominates as the statement of male official shows we (men) work all the day & when we return home we are hungry & they have to cook for us, it is our culture thus women should stay at home. They have no decision making rights in household activities. Men's are involving in outer household activities to sustain their livelihood.

With aim to empower women & Youth as agents of resilience, increasing the coping capacities of households & communities to manage the impacts of recurring disasters, slow- onset crises, climate change & poor governance CDECF/Mercy corps has been implementing a Margaret A. Cargill Foundation funded program entitled "Building Resilience through Integration of Gender & Empowerment (BRIGE)".

1.1 Objectives:

- Promote equitable household decision-making to increase risk management & income generating capacities.
- Increase women & marginalized groups access to markets, including access to inputs & outputs, information & services.
- Improve women & disadvantaged group' meaningful participation in community decision making to enhance community risk mitigation.

2. Deviation/addition to the initial plan

Work load initially increased in the communities for women after disaster because they had more child care duties (due to closure of schools) & task of clearing debris. Women's are reluctant; they cannot speak or read & write. They want to give thumbprints rather than signatures. Women's are always backing in household communication & decision-making process in the communities. We have found very few numbers of women's are involving in mitigation activities, SACCOs, Market & income generating activities. Women's are totally unknown about DRR & financial saving. To empower & enhance the coping capacity of women's we found activities of BRIGE project is so effective. Depending up on need assessment and demand of communities we have conducted family dialogue workshop in one more communities' i.e in Nagpuje to promote the equitable household decision-making to increase risk management capacity. Nagpuje (Ghumthang-7) is geographically hilly areas with very scatter settlement having no access of vehicles. Communities are illiterate having possibilities of vegetable farming & poultry.

Women mostly work in subsistence agriculture, they are still continuing traditional agriculture practices and they are producing wheat, rice, millet & maize for their daily food. We supported women friendly products agriculture tools (corn seller, millet thresher, combine thresher & mini-tiller) to reduce their work load, save time and enhance their productivity also provided technical trainings for proper handling the tools to the women's. Besides that to enhance the vegetable farming we have provided them business skill trainings as well as Agri- tech expo visit, which support them to adopt modern agriculture practices and increase income for their livelihoods.

Due to hard efforts from BRIGE team, some changes are seen in household level, they started to do household activities, household level decision jointly. To empower them and to build strong relationship with ward representatives we have done a workshop to ensure GESI integrated risk sensitive VDC level planning jointly. To aware the communities about Gender equality & social inclusion we have conveyed gender discrimination and its impact in the communities, importance of joint decision the message, importance of women's in communities' message through street drama in Ghumthang-7 & Maneshwara-7 in the special occasion of special women's day.

3. Results

Activities-I: Facilitate household-level Family Dialogue for the Financial and DRR related topics:

With aim to promote equitable household decision-making to increase risk management capacity; family dialogue workshops were conducted in the communities, Depending up on communities having poor economic back ground & vulnerable from earthquake were selected for family dialogue workshop i.e. in Maneshwara-7, Ghumthang-7 (Hundhung) & Ghumthang-7 (Nagpuje). 40 vulnerable mixed households (who have taken financial literacy training and not taken financial literacy training) were selected from each community. 40 households were divided into 4 different clusters with 10/10 households & taken one male & one female participant (focused husband & wife) from each household. After selection of beneficiaries conveyed the GESI trainings (Gender, sex, social inclusion, social traditional harmony and its impact in the male & female, sexual abuse & its impact in the communities, daily work load, joint decision & its benefits,) in the communities, support to make family action plan, support them for achievement, division of role & responsibility for the achievement & followed them up to 6 weeks. Besides that we supported them to develop business skill plan or economic growth of the family.

After the family dialogue workshop, around 80 households have their household action plan, division of their role & responsibility. Earlier communities have perception, only female were responsible in household activities, she has to take care of children, prepare food for household members, clean clothes, bring water from well & husbandry. Now after the family dialogue workshop some changes has been started in the communities husband also started to support in household activities like take care of their children, cooking, clean his dishes him selves, & also started care, cultivation & breeding of crops.

After build up common understanding on GESI house hold decision level decision started to do jointly, Husband has started to take the perception of women in household level decision process. Men have realized the importance of women in the societies started to respect and support them in communities' works.

In earlier Women's were only engaged in reproductive activities of households, now they started in income generating activities too, they were engaged in vegetable production, they sold the production in Barhabise bazaar. From the vegetable farming, husbands were getting support in economic growth. Almost beneficiaries from Maneshawara-7 were enrolled in Himchuli Agriculture cooperatives & beneficiaries from Ghumthang-7 were enrolled in Ghumthang cooperatives as members & started saving. Beneficiaries Sushma Raut has also taken the loan from SACCOs & increased her business, now she used to earn nearly Rs. 8,000 monthly from her vegetable farm.

Now, women's were also known about some preparedness plan, possible disaster in the communities, their mitigation modalities. They have realized importance of cooperatives, almost members of family dialogue participant left the drinking, gossiping and started saving for future.

Activities-II: Increase women and marginalized groups' access to markets, including access to inputs and outputs, information and services

There is no any significant change found in the involvement of men & women in various income generating activities before & after the earthquake. The work burden is slightly increased for women after the earthquake. After the Family dialogue workshop men have started to support the women but it's not sufficient that women's have to take care of their children, family as well as support in agriculture work for livelihood. We found that agriculture is major sources of income for our communities too. They are totally dependent on agriculture for their livelihood from their ancient time. To reduce the work load, save the time BRIGE has introduced agriculture tools support like Corn seller, Millet thresher, straw cutter, Mini tiller, combine thresher which supports them for harvesting the maize, millet, rice etc. We have also provided them technical skill facilitation training to entrepreneurs about proper handling of the equipments. Family dialogue participant saraswati bhandari said that now she is able to handling all agriculture tools herself, she doesn't need to take support on plowing the land too. Earlier she used to pay nearly Rs. 5000 rupees to plow her land & takes three days, from BRIGE project support equipment they are saving their cost & time and using in vegetable farming to enhance their economic growth.

Everything is changed with time we have changed our get up, life style but with same agriculture practices we are promoting agriculture. In mean time definitely BRIGE project has done great drastic changes in the communities, which has done demonstration of agri-tools as well as enhanced to implement in their daily life.

They have also got opportunities for exposure visit 2nd Agri-tech exhibition in Bhrikutimandap from which they have learned poultry, fish & cow farming best practices in the Nepal. They have got the modern agriculture practices knowledge like agriculture production adopted with climate change, tunnel farming, irrigation technology (drip irrigation, sprinkle irrigation), organic fertilizer uses etc.

They have started vegetable farming after the field visit, to enhance their business we have also provided business skill trainings also supported varieties hybrid vegetable seeds for vegetable farming.

Livelihood of communities become changed now a days, they were technology friendly using modern agriculture tools for continuation of traditional agriculture practices also started vegetable farming for income generating activities in a large scale.

Activities-III: Improve women and disadvantaged groups' meaningful participation in community decision-making to enhance community risk mitigation

Female are usually works for regular agriculture cultivation & cattle rearing. Young Male work found migrated for labour work for strengthening their livelihood. Due to patriarchal societies women's are not getting chance to expose outer communities; share their view, decision on development fields.

Regarding the issues, we have aware the communities about importance of women, their role & responsibilities in the communities through social awareness street drama in two communities from which communities perception/behavior for women is slightly change. Communities were totally unknown about Gender equality & social inclusion agendas in the communities. We have tried to aware the communities through SACCOs & youth clubs. We have ensured the position of women & social inclusion groups in SACCOs & youth clubs.

In earlier social organization like SACCOs & Youth clubs were totally unknown about the gender audit & its importance in the organization. Now they were well known and trying to address in their organization. Women's were totally unknown about development planning process and elected female ward member of the communities were also not from the back ground so we from Mobilization of women groups to ensure risk sensitive VDC level planning (In development Plan) trainings elected female ward member including family dialogue participants were well known about development planning process and how to address GESI in it.

Somehow female participation of social activities were increased in compare to before the earthquake, they were able to raise their voice on their rights and in coordination with ward members for fulfillment of their voices.

4. Challenges and learning

- Most of the organization are focusing on construction but our activities family dialogue activities is different than others so difficult to get believe from communities.
- A patriarchal mind set communities perceive us women's institute talking about women disrupt their relationship. It takes a time to change their perception.
- Difficult to do interaction with beneficiaries due to their engagement in construction & livelihood activities.
- Due to earthquake all infrastructure were damaged so difficult to manage hall for workshop.

5. Coordination /Collaboration

There is no any cost leverage with any institution, we have completed the activities in direct coordination with women & children office, Barhabise Municipality, ward office of Barhabise-7 & Barhabise-8. DWCO provided us supportive training materials during conducting the GESI trainings.

Besides that we have done street drama in coordination with samudayik kala Samuha for awareness about GESI.

Lila kumari poudel is 58 years old. She has a husband & two children's in her family. Their childrens are living in Kathmandu for employment. During field visit in the communities we have known that Lila kumara poudel is living with her husband but there is no good relationship between them. They were using same kitchen but her husband hari Prasad poudel is cooking himself. He doesn't prefer the food cooking by his wife.

Lila Kumari poudel loves her husband very much and trying to build up good relationship with husband. He dislikes her and said it's difficult to join crack utensils. She shared her feelings/problems with us, after continuation of family dialogue workshops & continuation follow up some changes were seen in his behavior, He started to do support in household activities to his wife started to live together with good relationship.
